

Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Terms

This marketing document (“Marketing Document”) has been prepared by Johnson Capital International. Any recipient of this Marketing Document, either in paper or electronic copy, shall henceforth be known as the “Recipient”.

While the information contained herein is believed to be accurate, Johnson Capital International and any of their affiliates expressly disclaim responsibility for any errors or omissions in this Marketing Document or any other written or oral communication transmitted or made available to an interested party, excepting only those particular representations and warranties which may be made to the party in a definitive written agreement when, as, and if it is executed, and subject to such limitations and restrictions as may be specified in such agreement.

The Recipient of the Marketing Document agrees to the following:

- That all materials in the Marketing Document, including but not limited to financial statement proformas, product mix tables, and capital structure descriptions, are to be handled in the strictest confidence;
- That unless required by law, the Recipient will not to disclose to others the fact that they are engaged in an evaluation of the transaction described in this Marketing Document (“Transaction”);
- That the Marketing Document shall not be copied, reproduced, or distributed to other parties without the prior written consent of Johnson Capital International and the client which has engaged Johnson Capital International in connection with the Transaction.
- That the Marketing Document has been prepared for informational purposes only.
- That upon request, the Recipient will promptly return all materials received from Johnson Capital International or its representatives (including this Marketing Document) without retaining any copies thereof.
- That in furnishing this Marketing Document, Johnson Capital International undertakes no obligation to provide the Recipient with access to any additional information.